EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

This Bill seeks to amend the Human Organ Transplant Act (Cap. 131A) with the following changes:

- (a) to include citizens and permanent residents of Singapore who are Muslims under the presumed consent framework for organ transplantation, unless they opt out; and
- (b) to include powers to conduct investigations into offences under the Act.

The Bill also makes a related amendment to the Private Hospitals and Medical Clinics Act (Cap. 248).

Clause 1 relates to the short title and commencement.

Clause 2 amends section 5(2) to allow a designated officer of a hospital to remove any organ specified in the First Schedule from the body of a person who is a Muslim and who has died in the hospital for the purpose of transplanting the organ to the body of a living person, unless the person who has died —

- (a) had registered an objection to such removal during his lifetime;
- (b) was neither a citizen nor a permanent resident of Singapore;
- (c) was below 21 years of age;
- (d) was above 60 years of age; or
- (e) was not of sound mind.

Clause 3 amends section 12 so that, in the selection of a proposed recipient of an organ removed under section 5 for transplantation, a person who is a Muslim will not need to make a gift of an organ under the Medical (Therapy, Education and Research) Act (Cap. 175) within a particular timeframe in order to have priority over a person who has registered an objection under section 9(1) to organ removal.

In effect —

- (a) if a Muslim person has not registered an objection under section 9(1) to organ removal, he will have priority over a person who has registered such an objection; and
- (b) if a Muslim person has registered an objection under section 9(1) to organ removal but has subsequently withdrawn the objection under section 11(1), he will have the same priority as a person who has not registered any such objection, over a person whose objection in respect of that organ is still registered, at the expiration of 2 years from the date of receipt of the withdrawal by the Director of Medical Services (the Director), provided he has not registered again any such objection since that date.

Clause 4 inserts a new Part IVB (consisting of new sections 15E to 15K) which relates to the enforcement of the Act.

The new section 15E defines the word “record” as used in the new Part IVB.

The new section 15F provides for the appointment of inspectors for the enforcement of the Act and requires every such inspector to carry and, if required, produce an identification card when exercising his powers of investigation.

The new sections 15G, 15H and 15I set out the powers that may be exercised by an inspector when investigating into the commission of any offence under the Act. These include the powers to require the production of documents, to enter, inspect and search premises, to examine persons for the purpose of obtaining evidence and to arrest persons suspected of committing any offence under the Act.

The new section 15J confers protection on persons who give or provide information with respect to the commission of an offence under the Act.

The new section 15K makes it an offence for any person to obstruct, hinder or delay an inspector in the course of an investigation.

Clause 5 amends section 18(2) to permit disclosure of information that may identify an organ donor or recipient for the purpose of administering and enforcing the Act and for the purpose of referring any complaint or information concerning any registered medical practitioner under the Medical Registration Act (Cap. 174).

Clause 6 inserts a new section 18A which provides for the liability of the officers, members or partners of a body corporate, a partnership or an unincorporated association where an offence is committed by the body corporate, partnership or unincorporated association.

Clause 7 amends section 13(2) of the Private Hospitals and Medical Clinics Act (Cap. 248) to allow the Director or an authorised officer to disclose information which is contained in the medical record, or which relates to the condition, treatment or diagnosis, of any person if the disclosure is made for the purpose of administering and enforcing the Human Organ Transplant Act (Cap. 131A) (amongst certain other Acts).

Clause 8 makes a saving and transitional provision in relation to priority in the selection of proposed recipients for organs removed under section 5.

Under the repealed section 12(2)(c), a Muslim person who has made a gift of any organ from his body under the Medical (Therapy, Education and Research) Act (Cap. 175) after the period prescribed in the repealed section 12(2)(a)(i), (ii) or (iii) would, in the selection of a proposed recipient of an organ removed under section 5, have the same priority as a person who has not registered any objection with the Director under section 9(1) in respect of that organ, but only upon the expiration of 2 years from the date of such gift, and provided he has not revoked his gift since that date.

Under the clause, as from the date of commencement of the Human Organ Transplant (Amendment) Act 2007, such a person will have the same priority under section 12(1)(a) as a person (whether a Muslim or not) who has not registered any objection under section 9(1) to organ removal.

This Bill will not involve the Government in any extra financial expenditure.
